

Ann-E droide

The Ann-E droid show combines theater with new digital technologies: interactive projection, a smart LED costume, a robot ball and a drone!
Once upon a time there was a little robot girl named Ann-e who feels very comfortable in the virtual world.

She is the perfect representation of today's children.

His lone creator would substitute all of his human relationships with his new creature, but due to unforeseen circumstances, both must evolve.

Ann-E's goal is to transform into a real human being like Pinocchio, Therefore, she must learn the most important virtues: bravery, loyalty, honesty and the joy of life with ease.

With this show we seek to demonstrate how much a balance can be found between the virtual world and the real world by creatively connecting digital skills to real life experiences.

An indoor and outdoor show made for families and kids
