

Funny Creatures

Four enormous living Beetles appear in the middle of the city. The parade "Kafkaesque", consists of a giant cockroach, a huge ladybug and two beautiful scarabs. Hysteria fills the streets, increasing the curiosity of the public. Fortunately they are accompanied by Mr. Forestry Guard who tries to appease the situation: "Do not panic! Everything is under control !", While the astonished crowd retreats shouting.

The spectacle which began in a complete chaos, culminates in a spectacle gathering young and old, encircling these funny beasts.
